Front-End Development student

@ Noroff School of technology and digital media art Aug. 2020 - Jun. 2022

Through school, I have discovered the joys of coding. I have been challenged in a new way and learnt that errors can only be solved with logic. I'm very happy when I achieve something - and so displeased when I don't. Coding is full of feelings. Dividing big problems into smaller tasks and solving them one by one.

We have been through a lot during our classes, not all in detail - but our teachers were good at pointing out what we needed to learn, and what was nice-to-know.

I've heard Per Harald Borgen once said: "Motivation is by far the most important ingredient for learning how to code." And luckily I have had a lot of motivation!

Relevant experience

Creative manager

@ UTD Reklameprodusenten Aug. 2014 - Aug. 2020

Working as a creative manager, I was responsible for graphic production for a large customer group.

I have been a project manager on various project. Taken care of both designing and administrative tasks, and I've been a quality controller for all the bus decors in Vestfold and Buskerud. In addition to the academic aspect, this has given me good experience and knowledge on customer follow-up, structure and business in general.

Graphic designer

@ Vestfold Blad 2013

My main tasks were graphic layout and production of ads, brochures, logos, as well as overall design of customer's profile. In a way this was my first real graphic design job, with great colleagues who developed my skills and built a solid foundation for future jobs.

Visual Merchandiser

/ Assistant shop manager 2010 - 2012
@ Lindex AS

Through my position in Lindex I worked with profiling our store. But I also was involved with establishing new stores with exhibition podiums, window decor, floor-planning and campaigns. I've been involved with hiring, managing work schedules for 13 employees and the delegation of tasks.
